DIRECTIONS TO THE BUD METHENY BASEBALL COMPLEX:

Proceed west off Hampton Blvd. on 43rd Street (this will be a right hand turn if coming from I-564/Terminal Blvd.; a left hand turn if coming from downtown Norfolk). The stadium is on the right on Parker Avenue. Bus parking is available on Parker between the Soccer Stadium and the Bud Metheny Baseball Complex; we recommend fans and media park in the lot on the east side of the Fieldhouse (access off Elkhorn Avenue) and take the footpaths to the Stadium. Teams requiring additional information are asked to contact Greg Smith, Asst. A.D. for Event Management, at (757) 683-5924.

WHY MONARCHS?

Many people have wondered how the Old Dominion University athletic teams came to be officially known as the Monarchs.

For many years, the athletic teams of the Norfolk Division of the College of William & Mary (as Old Dominion was formerly called) were known as the Braves. This was a derivation of the William & Mary nickname of Indians. As Old Dominion achieved its own four-year status and saw its enrollment surpass that of its Williamsburg neighbor, it was no longer suitable or acceptable to have its teams called the Braves.

The name Monarchs evokes much of the early history of the Commonwealth of Virginia and of Old Dominion's mother institution, the College of William and Mary. The nickname "Old Dominion" was first coined to the Virginia colony by King Charles II after Virginia's loyalty to the crown during the English Civil War. Furthermore, William III and Mary II, whose patronage helped found the College of William and Mary in Virginia in 1693, ruled England at the invitation of Parliament as "joint monarchs."

The Monarch used by Old Dominion is a royal crown on a lion's head, representing an historic past and a strong future.

Old Dominion adopted its current family of logos in April 2002.

Coming off another record-setting season, the Colonial Athletic Association continues to enhance its reputation as one of the nation's top collegiate conferences.

With a geographic footprint stretching from Boston to Atlanta, the CAA encompasses five of the nation's nine largest metropolitan areas. The conference has produced 16 national team champions in five different sports, 33 individual national champions, 12 national players of the year, 11 national coaches of the year and 12 Honda Award winners. Even more impressive, however, are the honors accumulated away from competition, which include five Rhodes Scholars and 21 NCAA post-graduate scholars. In 2006-07, the CAA had six ESPN the Magazine Academic All-Americans and more than 1,600 of our 4,000 student-athletes received the Commissioner's Academic Award after posting at least a 3.2 grade point average while lettering in a varsity sport.

The landscape of the conference stretches along the majority of the East Coast, and includes six of the nation's top 25 media markets - New York (1), Philadelphia (4), Boston (5), Washington, D.C. (8), Atlanta (9) and Baltimore (23). The number of television homes in the CAA market exceeds 19 million.

The CAA now sponsors 22 sports with the addition of a 12-team football league in 2007. Male athletes compete for championships in baseball, basketball, cross country, football, golf, lacrosse, soccer, swimming & diving, tennis, track & field and wrestling. Female athletes battle for conference titles in basketball, cross country, field hockey, golf, lacrosse, soccer, softball, swimming & diving, tennis, track & field and volleyball. In 2006-07, a league-record 29 teams earned NCAA Tournament berths.

The conference has made its presence known nationally in men's basketball with four teams advancing to post-season play for the past three years. Conference champion VCU pulled the most noted upset of the NCAA first round last season with its 79-77 victory over Duke and Old Dominion became the second CAA team in as many years to receive an NCAA at-large bid. Hofstra returned to the NIT for the third straight season and Drexel made its fourth NIT appearance in the last five years. In 2006, George Mason became the first mid-major program since 1979 to reach the Final Four, knocking off powerhouses Michigan State, North Carolina, Wichita State and Connecticut along the way. The Patriots were ranked No. 8 in the final ESPN/USA Today Top 25 poll, which was the highest ever for a CAA team.

In women's basketball, the CAA had three teams earn NCAA Tournament berths for the first time and four squads advanced to post-season play for the second straight year. Perennial power Old Dominion, which has captured three national championships (1979, 1980, 1985) and was national runner-up in 1997, captured its 16th consecutive conference title. James Madison returned to the NCAA Tournament for the first time since 1996 and Delaware made its second-ever trip to the NCAA's. Hofstra completed its most successful season in school history by advancing to the quarterfinals of the WNIT.

The conference also excels in many other sports. Delaware became the first CAA team to reach the Final Four of the NCAA Men's Lacrosse Championship in 2007. A league-record four men's soccer teams earned NCAA berths in 2006, with Towson and Old Dominion advancing to the round of 16. A league-high four teams also represented the conference in the NCAA Men's Tennis Championship. William & Mary reached the round of 16 in women's tennis and the Tribe tandem of Megan Moulton-Levy and Katarina Zoricic was ranked No. 1 in the nation and reached the finals of the NCAA Doubles Championship. CAA squads have won 10 field hockey national titles since the championship began in 1981, which is the most of any Division I conference. Hofstra finished seventh overall at the NCAA Wrestling Championship and William & Mary finished eighth nationally in men's cross country. In baseball, the league had 17 players chosen in the 2007 Major League Baseball draft. There were 37 CAA student-athletes who received All-America honors.

CAA member institutions are committed to excellence in the classroom. The Colonial Academic Alliance was created in 2002 by the league's presidents with a goal of expanding their partnership to all aspects of university life outside of intercollegiate athletics. Among the programs already established are an undergraduate research conference, coordination of study abroad programs and granting visiting academic status to student-athletes traveling to an away contest so that they have access to libraries, academic resource centers and computer labs.

In 2002, two faculty members from CAA institutions were awarded academia's most coveted distinction - the Nobel Prize. John B. Fenn, a research professor in the Department of Chemistry at Virginia Commonwealth University, received the Nobel Prize for chemistry, and Vernon Smith, a professor of economics and law at George Mason University, shared the Nobel Prize in economic sciences.

Commissioner Thomas E. Yeager has guided the CAA since its inception. The conference traces its roots back to 1983 when three of its current members- George Mason University, James Madison University, and the College of William and Mary - were aligned with East Carolina University, the United States Naval Academy and the University of Richmond as a basketball league (ECAC South). During the next two years, the league added 11 sports, acquired two new members (the University of North Carolina at Wilmington and American University) and decided to form a new association. The transformation from ECAC South to CAA took place on June 6, 1985.

Charter members George Mason, James Madison, UNC Wilmington and William and Mary were joined by Old Dominion University in 1991 and by Virginia Commonwealth University in 1995. The conference added the University of Delaware, Drexel University, Hofstra University and Towson University in 2001. Georgia State University and Northeastern University became members of the conference on July 1, 2005.

From all-star athletes to Nobel Prize winning faculty, the CAA takes great pride in producing performers who stand out both on the playing field and in the classroom.

THIS IS OLD DOMINION UNIVERSITY

Rollins Hall houses the University's admissions, financial aid, and other support offices.

Koch Hall houses the University Administration

The Webb Student Center houses student services, the campus bookstore and many dining options.

Old Dominion University opened its doors 76 years ago in an abandoned public school building to 206 students. Known at the time as the Norfolk Division of the College of William and Mary, it became an independent, four-year institution in 1962 and attained university status in 1969. Today, Old Dominion enrolls more than 21,000 students, including approximately 6,200 graduate students. Its 185-acre Norfolk campus is the primary hub of activity, along with four additional higher education centers (Virginia Beach Center, Peninsula Center, Tri-Cities Center and Northern Virginia Center). Old Dominion is a versatile university, committed to its students, their education, personal development and overall success.

The University offers 68 bachelor's degrees, 60 master's degrees, 35 doctoral degrees and two educational specialist degrees, and consists of six colleges: Arts and Letters, Business and Public Administration, Education, Engineering and Technology, Health Sciences and Sciences.

Students who live on campus may choose residence hall or apartment-style living. The attractive Webb University Center provides a bookstore, cafeteria, food court, game room, lounge areas, and other shops and offices to serve the student body.

Old Dominion is one of Virginia's leading Ph.D. research institutions. The University contributes approximately $600 million a year to the Hampton Roads economy and provides the community with a variety of programs and services, including the Applied Research Center, Virginia Applied Technology and Professional Development Center, Military Career Transition Program, Executive Development Center and the Virginia Modeling, Analysis and Simulation Center. A leader in space-related research, Old Dominion ranks first in the state in funding from NASA for research projects. The University operates one of the largest wind tunnels in the world at NASA's Langley Research Center, and its Oceanography, Nuclear Physics, and Modeling and Simulation programs are among the best in the nation.

The University Village, a 75-acre development along the east side of Hampton Boulevard, is yet another economic spark for the region.

The 8,600-seat Ted Constant Convocation Center, which opened in fall 2002, is the centerpiece of the project. The Village also currently includes 278 modern apartment units for students, a fitness center and a variety of restaurants. Plans call for the addition of a research park, bookstore, hotel and shopping center.

In the classroom, Old Dominion students continue to earn high marks. The University boasts three USA Today Academic All-Americans and a Truman Fellow. ODU's first Rhodes Scholar is former field hockey All-American Samantha Salvia, a 1996 graduate.

Through its distance learning operation, Old Dominion offers nationally ranked programs in the sciences, engineering, arts and letters, health sciences, business and education. Its network includes nearly 50 locations throughout Virginia and as far away as Arizona, Georgia, Washington state, and even U.S. Navy ships and submarines deployed around the globe.

Old Dominion is well known for its international focus in both its curricula and student population. More than 1,100 international students from 100 countries are enrolled at the University.

The University also contributes to the cultural life of Hampton Roads by presenting music and dance concerts, plays, art exhibits, and annual literary and film and video festivals. In addition, the President's Lecture Series brings nationally known speakers to campus each year.

The University is located approximately 200 miles south of Washington, D.C., and is but a short drive to Virginia Beach and the Outer Banks of North Carolina.

OLD DOMINION ADMINISTRATION

Dr. Roseann Runte UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT

Dr. Roseann Runte became the seventh president of Old Dominion University in the summer of 2001. She has more than 20 years' experience as a professor and senior administrator. Her publications include books, articles and chapters on topics ranging from economic and cultural development to creative writing.

She has served on national and international boards, including The National Bank of Canada, the National Library, the Club of Rome, UNESCO and the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons. She is currently president of the American Council on Education's Commission on International Education, a board member of the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools and a member of the Executive Advisory Council for SunGard SCT.

Dr. Runte's work has been recognized with many awards and honors, including the Order of Canada, the French Order of Merit, fellowship in the Royal Society and the World Academy of Arts and Science, several honorary degrees and a prize from the French Academy.

Dr. Jim Jarrett ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

When Jim Jarrett arrived on the campus of Old Dominion University in the fall of 1967 as a Health and Physical Education professor, he had little idea that his tenure would be counted in decades. During that time span, he has led the program from a well respected NCAA Division II member to a nationally respected Division I power that has captured 25 national championships.

Jarrett began his 37th year as athletic director in 2007, taking over the reigns in 1970 when Bud Metheny stepped down from that position. As one of the youngest athletic directors in the nation at that time, Jarrett quickly began to make a name for himself and ODU. In 1974, Jarrett became the first athletic director in the state of Virginia to award grant-in-aids to women student-athletes. It was a bold move at the time for a young athletic director and equally young University, but one that paid great dividends. Just five years later, in 1979, the Lady Monarchs won the first of three national championships in women's basketball, and led the nation in attendance.

Under his leadership, the department's athletic venues have tripled and are considered state of the art facilities. They include the construction of the Bud Metheny Baseball Complex, the Sailing Center, the Athletic Administration Building, the ODU Soccer Building the 8,500 seat Constant Convocation Center. Currently, Jarrett is overseeing the construction of the Folkes-Stevens Indoor Tennis Center, the Powhatan Sports Center, Foreman Field renovations and renovations to the Athletic Administration Building. For all his efforts, Jarrett's has been honored many times by national and local groups. Most recently, Jarrett was given Lifetime Achievement awards from NACDA and VaSID. In 2003, he was named the Southeast Regional Athletic Director of the Year by NACDA. Other awards he's received include the Collegiate Director's Award from the Women's Basketball Coaches Association, and the Norfolk Sports Club Man of the Year. He served as a member of the NCAA Women's Basketball Committee and is a past president of the Colonial Athletic Association and the Virginia Sports Hall of Fame.

An avid golfer and tennis player, Jarrett and his wife Sugie reside in Norfolk.

ATHLETIC FACILITIES

Old Dominion University prides itself on being able to offer the student-athlete the best possible facilities to achieve maximum potential on the field.

The Intercollegiate Athletics Building, which underwent a renovation in 2006, houses both strength training and athletic training facilities which are always at the full disposal of the student-athlete. The expanded building is also the home of the Jacobson Athletic Academic Center.

The athletic training room provides the best in modern rehabilitation equipment for athletic injuries. The seven-foot deep running pool, located in the hydrotherapy room, along with three whirlpools and jacuzzi, provides Old Dominion athletes the opportunity to rehabilitate through exercise in water. The room also includes nine training tables, a Kinkom rehabilitation machine, and a traction table. The athletic training room is under the supervision of Head Athletic Trainer Marty Bradley, M.S., A.T.C., and his two full-time assistants, along with a staff of graduate assistants and student assistants.

The strength training room, built specifically for student-athlete use. The room includes the most up-to-date in nautilus and free weight equipment, all under the supervision of the Head Strength and Conditioning Coach.

The Intercollegiate Athletics Building also houses the administrative staff including the athletic director, the associate and assistant athletic directors, the offices of sports information, marketing, athletic camps, and the ticket office. The Athletic Support Office and Buildings and Grounds offices are also located in the Intercollegiate Athletics Building. The Intercollegiate Athletics Building is located in the middle of the athletic quadrant of the campus that includes the 4,000 seat Old Dominion Soccer Stadium, the 2,500 seat Bud Metheny Baseball Complex, the Folkes-Stevens Indoor Tennis Center, and the Student Recreation Center will be undergoing major renovation and expansion.

The Old Dominion Sailing Center is located on the Elizabeth River on the western side of the campus and serves as home to the Monarch sailing program. Featuring a 200-foot pier and launch area, the Sailing Center also has storage space for the entire Old Dominion fleet of FJ's, Lasers, 420's, and various support craft, locker rooms, classrooms, workshop, and office space for the sailing coaches.

Foreman Field, located behind Rollins Hall on the northern edge of the campus, is currently home to the field hockey and lacrosse teams. In 2009, the field will be the home field for Monarch football.

On August 2, 2007, the university broke ground on the Powhatan Sports Center. This new facility will house the football, field hockey and lacrosse programs. The Center will include offices, locker rooms, meeting rooms, a weight room, football practice fields and a new stadium for field hockey and lacrosse.

RECORDS AND HISTORY

BUD METHENY

On Jan 2, 2003 Old Dominion University and the athletic program lost a legend with the passing of Bud Metheny and his wife Fran on the same day. Bud spent 32 years at the University from 1948 to 1980 as an instructor, basketball coach, athletic director and coach of the baseball program.

Baseball was his passion, and where he made his mark. As a member of the New York Yankees from 1937 to 1946, Bud played on the 1943 World Series championship squad that stopped St. Louis. Bud started for the Yankees in the second and last game of the series.

As a coach of the Monarchs, he rolled up a 423-363-6 record and was honored by the NCAA as the Eastern Regional coach of the year in 1963 and 64 and national coach of the year in 1964. His Monarchs won the NCAA College Division Eastern Regional championship in 1963 and 1964 and took second in 1965. Bud not only coached baseball, but he was the men's basketball head coach from 1948-1965, compiling a 198-163 record and posting 16 winning seasons. He served as the University's athletic director from 1963-1970.

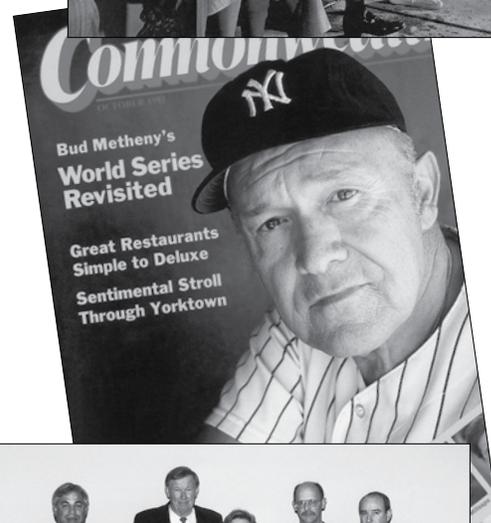

Following his retirement it was only fitting to honor Bud with the naming of the new baseball stadium in 1983 and with the adoption of the blue and white pin stripes of the Yankees on uniforms the following year, which coincides with the University's new school colors, adopted in 1986. Bud and Fran were constant faces at ODU games in the spring, with their lawn chairs positioned behind home plate. Bud was the last New York Yankee to wear Babe Ruth's famous No. 3 jersey as it was retired shortly after Bud's departure. As the leader of Monarch teams, Bud wore the No. 3 with pride and that number is retired at the Bud Metheny Complex on the right field fence.

Bud was enshrined in the College Baseball Coaches Hall of Fame in January of 1983 in Dallas, TX., and is a member of the Old Dominion Sports Hall of Fame, the Virginia Sports Hall of Fame, the William and Mary Hall and the Tidewater Baseball Hall of Fame.

The Bud Metheny Baseball complex was completed on the campus of Old Dominion University in 1983 and hailed as one of the most outstanding collegiate facilities on the East Coast. With seating capacity of 2,500 for Monarch games, "Bud's Place," as it is endearingly called by the players, allows Old Dominion to schedule some of the top baseball powers in the nation, in both night and day games.

In the past, Miami, St. John's, Clemson, New Orleans, and North Carolina have competed at the stadium. Old Dominion hosted three Sun Belt Conference Tournaments and the 1994 Colonial Athletic Association Tournament, as well as various district and state high school championships.

Locker rooms, a concession stand, offices, four batting cages, a picnic area and a fully enclosed press box are featured in the stadium. The field dimensions are 320 feet down both foul lines, 375 feet in the power alleys and 395 to centerfield.
