To the Media

The 2003-04 Old Dominion University Media Guide was prepared specifically to assist the media in its coverage of Old Dominion University women's basketball.

Credentials

Members of the media that wish to cover a Lady Monarch home basketball game must obtain a media pass at least 24 hours in advance by either writing the Sports Information Office, or by calling 757-683-3372 between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday. Broadcast requests MUST BE MADE IN WRITING at least three weeks in advance of the scheduled game.

Working Area

All working press will be seated at courtside. Non-working press may sit at press row only if space is available. Spouses, guests and children are not permitted on press row or in the press room, in compliance with the working code of the U.S. Basketball Writers Association. Visiting radio and television stations are also seated at press row. Photographers must shoot from the end lines of the court. Additional lighting and strobe lights must be cleared in advance of the game. Space along the end lines of the court is on a first-come, first-served basis.

Filing Stories

Internet access and a FAX machine will be made available in the Constant Center press room.

Press Room

The press room for Lady Monarch basketball is located under section 106 in the Constant Convocation Center. Drinks and food are available in the adjacent media hospitality room prior to tip-off and at halftime. Post-game press conferences will also be held in this room. Admittance is limited to those with media passes.

Post-Game Interviews

Locker room interviews are not granted at Old Dominion University Lady Monarch basketball games. Coach Wendy Larry and players selected by the media will grant interviews in the press room ten minutes after the conclusion of the game. For more information on post-game interviews, or to request individual players from either the Lady Monarchs or their opponents, please contact Assistant Sports Information Director Kimberly Zivkovich or Sports Information Director Carol Hudson, Jr.

Radio Setup

All visiting radio stations must contact Verizon in Norfolk, Va., for telephone requests for game coverage in the Constant Convocation Center. The Norfolk office of Verizon may be reached by calling 757-667-5000.

Print Media

The Lady Monarch basketball program has been followed by the local, regional and national press for over 25 years, and was among the first programs in the country to have full-time coverage in major daily newspapers.

Locally, The Virginian-Pilot newspaper, which serves the southside of Hampton Roads and boasts a circulation of 170,000-plus, covers the program on a continuous basis, both at home and on the road. Across the river in Newport News and Hampton, the Daily Press newspaper, serving the Peninsula with a combined circulation of more than 100,000, provides up-to-date coverage on the team. Through its weekly release from the sports information office, Lady Monarch information is provided to more than 250 media, including hometown coverage for all Lady Monarch players.

Coaches Call-In Show

Head Coach Wendy Larry is featured weekly during the season on ESPN Radio 1310. The call-in format allows for fans to talk directly to Larry about games, opponents, and more. Coach Larry will be featured weekly on Mondays from 5-6 pm.

Lady Monarch Head Coach Wendy Larry is a media favorite. She and the rest of the staff and players are easily accesible for interviews through the Sports Information Office.

Television

Long before it was fashionable for women's basketball to be on television, the Lady Monarchs were pioneering their way into millions of living rooms.

In the late 1970's and early 1980's, Old Dominion basketball, both men and women, were featured on the Christian Broadcasting Network (CBN), which was then the second-largest cable system in the United States. Since those groundbreaking days, the Lady Monarchs have been featured on ESPN in the first regular season game aired by that network (Old Dominion at Texas in 1985-86), on both CBS and NBC in national championship contests and on many local and regional broadcasts.

This season, the Lady Monarchs will once again be featured on various television broadcasts. The dates and opponents for television broadcast had not been determined at press time, but wil be available on the odusports.com website.

No stranger to success, Wendy Larry's teams have reached 15 NCAA Tournaments, captured an NCAA record 12 consecutive conference titles, collected over 400 wins, and electrified audiences with her brand of Lady Monarch basketball.

For Wendy Larry, the love affair with Old Dominion spans three decades filled with history and accomplishment. She has been an instrumental member of the Lady Monarch family at every level possible. From building a foundation for the program at its infancy as a student-athlete, to mentoring and continuing the winning tradition as an assistant coach, to guiding Old Dominion to its most triumphant era as a head coach, Larry's love and embrace of the game of women's basketball have been colossal.

Larry has been at the helm of the Old Dominion women's basketball program, guiding the Lady Monarchs through unprecedented acclaim and accomplishment over the last 16 years. Considered one of the elite coaches in the world of women's basketball, she has built championship caliber teams year in and year-out and supplied further prestige and fame to what is the Lady Monarch women's basketball dynasty.

The Lady Monarchs have always been teams of ambition and determination and their passion to succeed can be found from the top down. Positioning herself as a true leader in her profession, Larry has led her teams to 14, 20+ wins seasons over her tenure. In 19 years as a head coach, she has compiled an impressive 428-157 record and as the head of the Lady Monarch program has won an impressive 75 percent of her games (379-126). During her tenure, her teams also assembled what was known as the "The Streak," consisting of 113 consecutive regular and post-season conference victories from 1995-2001.

Larry's achievements have not gone without recognition. She has been the recipient of eight Coach of the Year awards from three different leagues and has also been recognized on the national level as well with WBCA District III, RCA, Sporting News, and United States Women's Basketball Writers Association (USBWA) Coach of the Year accolades. Additionally she has been named the Woman of the Year by the Outstanding Professional Women of Hampton Roads.

Returning to her alma mater as head coach of the Lady Monarchs in 1987, Larry immediately made her impact, being named the Sun Belt Coach of the Year as her squad advanced to the NCAA Tournament. During the next two seasons, Old Dominion collected over 20 wins each year and advanced to second round NCAA play, posting marks of 23-9 (1988-89) and 21-10 (1989-90). In 1991-92, the team posted a 20-11 mark and advanced to the NCAA East Region. The following season saw Old Dominion reach the NCAA Mideast second round with a record of 22-8. The Lady Monarchs reached the East Regional Round with a 25-6 ledger in 1993-94 and then the Sweet Sixteen in 1995-96 with a 29-3 mark.

In the late 90's and into the next century, Old Dominion enjoyed a resurgence of national success with an appearance in the 1997 NCAA National Championship game against the Lady Vols of Tennessee in Cincinnati, Ohio. In four of the last six years, the Lady Monarchs have been regulars at the Sweet Sixteen. In 1998, Old Dominion faced NC State in the East Region, Duke in the East Region in 1999, Louisiana Tech in the Midwest Region in 2000, and danced to the Elite Eight against eventual national champion Connecticut in 2002.

Larry's success stories have also transcended to the professional ranks. Nine of her former players have been drafted by the WNBA. Following the 2002 season, Larry witnessed four of her former Old Dominion student-athletes reach the pro ranks as Old Dominion joined Connecticut with the most athletes selected in the draft. In fact, once a Monarch, always a Monarch still holds true for former Lady Monarchs Penicheiro and Hamchetou Maiga currently playing with the Sacramento Monarchs. However, Larry's impact has also reached the coaching ranks. Old Dominion legend and former assistant Anne Donovan led Charlotte to the WNBA Finals in 2001 as head coach of the Sting and Alisa Scott, a six year member of Larry's staff, serves an assistant coach for the three-time WNBA Champion Houston Comets.

Prior to her current post at Old Dominion, Larry was the head coach at nearby Virginia Wesleyan College from 1978-79 and Arizona from 1985-87. She was named the PAC West Coach of the Year during the 1985-86 campaign as her Wildcat team posted a 19-9 record. In addition, Larry spent one year as the head coach at Cape Henry Collegiate High School in Virginia Beach.

Larry first returned to her alma mater under the guidance of Marianne Stanley, the current head coach of the WNBA's Washington Mystics, for the 1979-80 season as a graduate assistant coach before being elevated to a full-time assistant. During that span, she was part of two Old Dominion national championships - 1980 (AIAW) and 1985 (NCAA).

Larry has been an active member of several committees and boards away from the hardwood. Currently, Larry has the prestigious honor of serving as the president of the Women's Basketball Coaches Association (WBCA) for the next two seasons. She has also been involved with the USA Today Coaches Poll board, the NCAA East Regional Women's Basketball Advisory Committee, and the advisory committee for Coaches vs. Cancer. Larry is also committed to many civic organizations through the Hampton Roads area. She has served on the Board of Directors for the Hampton Roads Habitat for Humanity and for two years supported the "Wendy Walk" to help raise money for Habitat's cause. Wendy and her team are also supporters of "The Buddy Walk of Hampton Roads," an effort to raise money and awareness of Down's Syndrome. Wendy also served as the Honorary Chair of The 2003 Race for the Cure in Hampton Roads.

A native of Bloomingdale, New Jersey and huge New York Yankees fan, Larry calls Virginia Beach her home.

ASSISTANT COACH

NIKITA LOWRY

First Season
Ohio State '89

Former USA Basketball assistant coach and Ohio State All-American Nikita Lowry becomes the newest addition to the Lady Monarch staff joining the sidelines for her first season in 2003-04.

Lowry, an All-American and Hall of Fame Member of Ohio State women's basketball team, comes to Old Dominion with vast coaching and playing experience, including head coaching stints at New Mexico State and Detroit Mercy as well as assistant coaching positions at New Mexico State, Ohio State, and Michigan.

Internationally, Lowry has been active with USA Basketball both as a coach and a player. In 2002, she was an assistant with the U.S. 20-and-Under squad that won the gold medal at the COPABA Young Women's World Championships in Ribeirao Preto, Brazil. During her collegiate days, Lowry was a member of two USA Select Teams (1988 & 1990), the World University Team (1989), and the Junior National Team (1987).

Beginning her coaching career with the University of Michigan in 1991, Lowry spent two seasons as a member of the Wolverine coaching staff before returning to her alma matter, Ohio State, for a three year stint in 1993. While on the sidelines the Buckeyes posted a combined record of 52-40, which culminated with a 21-13 record in 1995-96 and a trip to the NCAA Tournament.

Lowry took over the reigns of the Detroit Mercy program in 1996, coaching the Titans to two Midwestern Collegiate Conference (MCC) titles and the school's first-ever NCAA appearance in 1997. In all, Lowry coached 10 All Mid-West Collegiate Continent Conference athletes at Detriot Mercy, as well as 20 honor students.

Following her three-year stint at Detroit Mercy, Lowry spent three seasons at New Mexico State as both an assistant and head coach. As an assistant, Lowry served as the Aggies recruiting coordinator and worked closely with the post players. In her first season as head coach at New Mexico State, her team set an NCAA record for most three-point field goals in a game (21), ranked second nationally with a 8.4 three-point field goal average, and set a New Mexico State record shooting 76.3 percent from the free throw line. Additionally, the Aggies earned the most wins since 1995-96 seasons.

As a player, Lowry was a four-year letterwinner for Ohio State from 1985-1989 where she helped lead the Buckeyes to four NCAA Tournament appearances. During her senior campaign she was named a Kodak and Street & Smith All-American, the Big Ten Player of the Year by the Chicago Tribune, and was a unanimous all-conference selection. During her final season she led OSU to a 24-6 overall record and a 16-2 mark in Big Ten play as well as a share of the Big Ten Championship. Additionally, Lowery led the league in field goal percentage, steals, and tied for the lead in rebounding as a junior and became the first Buckeye women's player to average over 20 points per game since 1979. Most recently, in 2000, Lowry was inducted into Ohio State's Hall of Fame and in 2002, she was named to the Buckeye's All-Century Team.

Following her collegiate career, Lowry spent a year abroad playing for the Italmeco Bari Club in Bari, Italy.

ASSISTANT COACH

SUSAN MONTGOMERY

Third Season
Valdosta State '83

Susan Montgomery returns to the sidelines for her third season with the Lady Monarch women's basketball program.

Montgomery is responsible for scouting future Lady Monarchs in the southern states as well as continuing the Old Dominion tradition of overseas recruiting. Additionally she will monitor the academic progress of the Lady Monarchs student-athletes. Montgomery will also handle the development of the Lady Monarch post-players and share scouting responsibilities.

Montgomery joined Wendy Larry's staff in June of 2001 and has since helped the Lady Monarchs compile a 49-17 record and a 33-3 conference mark. During each of her two seasons with Old Dominion, the Lady Monarchs have captured the CAA Title and advanced to the NCAA Tournament, including 2002's Elite Eight run in the midwest region.

Prior to joining the Old Dominion staff, Montgomery spent four years as an assistant at Georgia State, aiding the Lady Panthers back-to-back 24 win seasons and the 2001 TAAC title. During the 2001 season, she was a key component in Georgia State's first-ever appearance in the NCAA Tournament, facing national powerhouse Louisiana Tech in the East Region. During her tenure, she served as the Lady Panther's recruiting coordinator bringing two TAAC All-Newcomers, including the 1999 TAAC Newcomer of the Year, to Atlanta.

Montgomery also served as an assistant coach at the University of South Florida and the head coach at Kennesaw State in Marietta, GA for three seasons. At the helm of the Owl program, Kennesaw State compiled a 52-32 record and captured the NAIA District 25 Championship, earning a spot in the NAIA National Tournament in 1993. Before taking over the reigns, Montgomery assisted the late Ron Walker in the school's first-ever post season tournament play. The Owls competed in the NAIA National Tournament finishing 16th in the nation. Once again establishing herself as a recruiter, Montgomery was responsible for signing Kennesaw State's all-time leading scorer.

Before joining the collegiate coaching ranks, Montgomery served as a high school coach in Valdosta, GA, from 1986-91, where she first began her association with Old Dominion. While in Valdosta, two of her players were recruited and played for Old Dominion, Cassandra Twine (1990-92) and the late Esther Benjamin (1993-96).

Montgomery began her coaching career as the head softball and assistant women's basketball coach from 1984-86 at Berrien County in Nashville, GA, the alma mater of former Lady Monarch Shonda DeBerry. She was also co-head coach of the Tifton Stompers, a girls 18-and-under softball team that ranked as high as fifth nationally and participated in the ASA National Softball Tournament in 1986.

During her coaching career Montgomery has been honored with many awards including Coach and Teacher of the Year Awards from the Valdosta City Schools (1988-89), WBCA District 5 Legislative Committee Representative (1994-95), sponsor for the Fellowship of Christian Athletes (1993-95), and most recently a representative on the WBCA Scholarship Committee (2002-2004).

Earning both her undergraduate (1983) and master's degree (1989) in health and physical education from Valdosta State, Montgomery, a native of Marietta, GA, currently resides at Buckroe Beach in Hampton, VA.

ASSISTANT COACH

JULIET
McGee Schweiter

Fifth Season
Bucknell '93

The veteran of the Old Dominion coaching staff, Juliet McGee Schweiter begins her fifth season with the Lady Monarchs. Schweiter will share recruiting and scouting duties along with assisting with the on-court development of the Lady Monarch post players.

Since arriving in the Hampton Roads area, Schweiter has helped led the Lady Monarchs to four of their 12 consecutive CAA titles and a 99-31 overall mark.

Schweiter, who is an active recruiter throughout the year, is jointly responsible for on and off-campus recruiting efforts for the Lady Monarchs. In addition to her recruiting duties, Schweiter oversees on-campus housing and meal plans for student-athletes and shares responsibility for scouting opponents.

No stranger to Old Dominion, Schweiter spent two seasons under head coach Jeff Thatcher at former CAA rival American University in Washington, D.C. Before her stint with the Eagles, Schweiter served as an assistant coach at Yale University in New Haven, Connecticut for two seasons.

Schweiter graduated from Pennsylvania's Bucknell University in 1993 with a bachelor's degree in economics. Following her graduation, Schweiter began her coaching career as the graduate assistant coach for perennial MAAC powerhouse Fairfield University in Connecticut, where she earned her master's degree in education.

During her playing career with the Bison, Schweiter scored over 1,000 points and led the Patriot League in rebounding for two seasons. A captain during her senior season, Schweiter was named to the All-Patriot League first team. A four-year standout player at Moses Brown High School in Rhode Island, Schweiter was inducted into the school's Hall of Fame.

A native of Providence, Rhode Island, Schweiter resides in Norfolk, VA, along with her husband, Herb, a Major in the United States Marine Corps.

Women's Basketball Secretary

ANNETTE Chester

Annette Chester begins her fiftteenth season as the office services assistant to Wendy Larry and the rest of the Lady Monarch coaches, managers, and players.

A vital part of Old Dominion women's basketball, Chester handles the day-to-day administration of the office, as well as overseeing budgets and travel plans.

Originally from Nebraska, Chester moved to the area in 1988. She resides in Virginia Beach with her husband John, an audio technician.

MEET THE Lady Monarchs

ALL EYES ON US

Seeing is believing...The Lady Monarchs look to

All eyes are on the Old Dominion women's basketball team as the Lady Monarchs prepare to capture their 13th straight Colonial Athletic Association Crown and return to the NCAA Tournament for the 21st time in school history. Excitement is high as the Lady Monarchs not only hope to repeat their trip to the big dance, but are also aiming to return to Norfolk and the Ted Constant Convocation Center, the host of this year's NCAA Mideast Regional.

Old Dominion loses just two members of last year's youthful squad with the graduation of the school's 12th all-time leading scorer in guard Okeisha Howard along with veteran leader forward Kim Giddens. However, what remains behind is a plentitude of talent, experience, and tradition that Lady Monarch fans' eyes are ready watch and be dazzled.

ALL EYES ON THE SENIORS:

All eyes are on the Class of 2004 and what one of the most highly touted group of Lady Monarch recruits can do as they close out their careers at Old Dominion.

All eyes are on first team Preseason All-CAA and All-American candidate Monique Coker. The senior veteran of the Lady Monarchs, Coker has been a member of the starting five for the last two seasons and last year averaged 10.5 points along with a CAA second best 8.7 rebounds per game. The 6-1 forward can be one of the toughest Lady Monarchs for opponents to guard with her speed around the basket and ability to push her way into position. Coker had several impressive performances in the 2002-03 season which included 18 double figure scoring games, 12 double figure rebounding contests, and a career-high 24-point, 14-rebound effort against conference rival George Mason. This season, Coker is on track to become the school's 24th Lady Monarch to net over 1,000-career points and with a more explosive scoring output, she could place her name in the Old Dominion record books. On the other end of the ball, Coker's defensive presence will be immeasurable. She was among the top 10 in the conference in blocked shots with 24 total rejections and led her squad on the defensive glass.

Fans will have a hard time keeping track of 5-10 guard/forward Max Nhassengo now that the knee braces are off. An explosive player, Nhassengo's work ethic made her ready right out of the gate in the 2002-03 after sitting out the year with a knee injury, the first ever injury of her career. The 2001 Junior College Player of the Year, Nhassengo averaged 8.0 points and 4.8 rebounds in her first season at Old Dominion and is ready to hit the court this season and produce even more. She lit up for 13 double-digit performances, which included a career-high 23 points against Virginia Commonwealth and a team-leading 18 to start Old Dominion's post season off on the right foot in the opening round of the CAA Tournament. Another possible All-America candidate for the Lady Monarchs this season, Nhassengo will be without her knee brace, which could help her become an even more explosive player. During the Lady Monarchs' preseason workouts, Nhassengo clocked a 5:16 mile.

All eyes are on 6-0 guard Myriah Spence, one of the top returning three-point threats for the Lady Monarchs. Spence, a member of the 2001 All-Rookie Team, will be looking for a stellar senior campaign. She has been used primarily as a sparkplug off the Lady Monarch bench and once she gets a hot hand, Spence's lights out shooting can be hard to stop. Her potential for her final season is great, whether it's igniting the offense, stopping opponents dead in their tracks on defense.

Expectations are high for 6-1 guard Marianthi Koukouvinou in 2004. A fan favorite throughout her career, Koukouvinou is a member of the Greek National Team and will be making an appearance at the 2004 Summer Olympic Games in Athens this summer. With an extra dose of confidence from having experience playing on Greece's National Team, Koukouvinou's playing time could increase and she could become more of a role player in her final season.

Senior forward Monique Coker, the Lady Monarchs' leading rebounder will be looking to leading rebounder will be looking to lead her Old Dominion team on its quest for "lucky 13."

All eyes are on 6-4 center Cassie Calwell as she once again comes off the bench to add depth at the center position for the Lady Monarchs. Calwell made 18 appearances and proved that she isn't afraid to take the three point shot in her first season with Old Dominion after transferring from Louisberg Junior College.

ALL EYES ON THE JUNIORS

All eyes will be waiting to see what 2003 Second Team All-CAA member, CAA Tournament MVP, and All America candidate Shareese Grant will bring to the court this season. After a stellar rookie campaign, the 5-8 guard from nearby Virginia Beach, VA moved into the starting line-up and shined as the Lady Monarchs starting scoring guard. She returns as Old Dominion's leading scorer, averaging 12.6 points per contest. Grant finished the year 12th in the CAA in scoring average and was second in the league in field goal percentage shooting at a .521 clip. Grant's game is just as impressive on the defensive side of the floor as evident by her nod to the 2003 CAA All-Defensive team and leading her squad in steals with 48.

All eyes are on 6-1 forward Paula Muxiri's improvement. Muxiri was called upon to make the big defensive stops against Old Dominion's opponents last season and has the potential to score in big numbers. Last season she appeared in all 32 games averaging 2.3 points per game along with 1.8 rebounds per game.

ALL EYES ON THE SOPHOMORES

All eyes are on 6-5 center Corrina Turner to stay healthy and continue her dominating presence in the paint. Turner finally played her first full season after missing two straight seasons with ACL injuries. Once into the mix, Turner thrived averaging 6.2 points and 7.0 rebounds per game and shot .585 percent from the field. Turner proved to be a force to be reckoned with and a tough match-up in the middle, ranking eighth in the CAA in rebounds and topping the league in blocks with 55 opponent shots swatted away. With an entire season under her belt, Turner should continue to improve offensively as the Lady Monarchs will be looking to get her the ball in the paint. Among Turner's performances in 2002-03 include double-double performances against Drexel and Towson, which included a season-high 19-point, 15-rebound effort.

All eyes will be watching and waiting to see how 5-11 guard Lawona Davis will fit into the mix in her second season with the Lady Monarchs. Davis gained valuable playing time in her rookie season and added with her development over the summer and in the off-season, she could figure in to be one of the key elements to Old Dominion's success. Davis showed fans her enormous potential last season against league rival Hofstra, as she poured in a career-high 14 points on 6-of-8 shooting from the floor and 2-for-2 from the free throw line.

2003-04 OUTLOOK

Senior Max Nhassengo's lightening speed quickness should help ODU to critical wins in 2003-04.

ALL EYES ON THE FRESHMEN

All eyes are eagerly awaiting to see how the newest members of the Lady Monarchs squad will contribute.

All eyes are ready to watch redshirt freshman Shantel Wilson take over at the point guard position. A true point guard, Wilson will be taking over for Okeisha Howard, who ran the floor last season. Wilson, who sat out last season, practiced with the team and closely monitored her teammates so that she could be ready this season to step in and lead. With a long list of credentials behind her, including H.D. Woodson Player of the Year, Women's Sports Foundation Outstanding Athlete in Washington D.C. and AAU All-America, and the knowledge she has gained over the last season on the sidelines, Wilson is confident she can take over the starting role and have her impact felt immediately.

All eyes are also waiting for Angela Brown, Letitia Lyons, and Sherida Triggs to don their Lady Monarch uniforms. Each have the potential to have their impact felt right away as Brown will add depth to the center position for Old Dominion, while Lyons and Triggs bolster the Lady Monarch front court. Brown, a McDonald's All-American nominee and Coaches Association First Team All-Region her final two seasons at Clinton County High School, she set records for points in a game (43), career blocks (694), career points (2,217), career rebounds (1,569), and career field goals (975) and a career rebounding mark that is fifth all-time in Kentucky. Triggs, a Street & Smith All-American-Honorable Mention and McDonald's All-American nominee, knows what it takes to win as she helped her Meadowcreek squad to the AAAA championship game as a junior. During her career she scored over 1,000 career points and was named Meadowcreek's Best Defensive and Best Offensive Player.

Letitia Lyons, joins teammate Shareese Grant as another local product to wear the Lady Monarch uniform. Hailing from nearby Newport News, VA, Lyons' resume includes such accolades as the 2003 Peninsula District Player of the Year, Daily Press Female Basketball Player of the Year, and Honorable Mention Orlando Sentinel All-South Team. Lyons completed her career with 1,771 points, a Woodside High School record for either men or women and helped her scholastic team to the East Regional semi-finals three straight seasons.

ALL EYES ON THE OPPONENT

Year-in and year-out the Lady Monarchs play the best competition that Division I basketball has to offer and the 2003-04 season will be no different. Old Dominion opens the season at the WBCA Classic which features Sweet Sixteen participants Colorado and Notre Dame, and WNIT champion Auburn. Lady Monarch fans' will have the chance to see NCAA Tournament participants Penn State and North Carolina, along with Charlotte, Georgia Tech, and Florida International, and the homecoming of former Lady Monarchs Cindy Russo and Inge Nissen, at the Ted Constant Convocation Center. On the road, the Lady Monarchs will face national runner-up Tennessee and NCAA participants Rutgers and Virginia Tech. Also included is the 18-game CAA schedule which Old Dominion will once again look to dominate.

All eyes are on the Lady Monarchs in 2003-04...And seeing is believing.

A Closer Look At

OLD DOMINION

Norfolk serves as the cultural, financial and business hub of the Hampton Roads Metropolitan Area, which comprises the cities of Norfolk, Portsmouth, Virginia Beach, Chesapeake, Suffolk, Hampton, and Newport News. With a combined population of 1.5 million, the Hampton Roads area is the 27th largest Metropolitan Statistical Area in the U.S. and in 1998 was rated the number one city in the south by Money magazine.

Founded in 1682, Norfolk has been a gateway to Virginia for commerce and industry since the early 17th century.

The city is home to the Norfolk Naval Base, the world's largest naval installation and homeport to the U.S. Navy's Atlantic and Mediterranean fleets; the MacArthur Memorial, the final resting place of famed General Douglas MacArthur; The Chrysler Museum, an art museum showcasing the collection of Walter P. Chrysler, son of the auto company founder; and Norfolk Botanical Garden, host to many celebrations including the International Azalea Festival.

Norfolk's 12,000-seat Harbor Park is home to the Norfolk Tides, the top minor league team in the New York Mets organization.

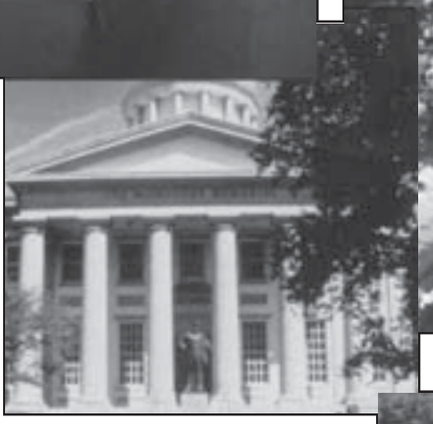

Waterside marketplace and Town Point Park create a lively waterfront activity center for outdoor concerts, many festivals, and dining with the best sunset views around.

HAMPTON ROADS

Above, Nauticus, the National Maritime Museum, is the new home of the US Battlesihp Wisconsin and is a popular destination for visitors. Far right, the Virginia Beach oceanfront is a favorite for tourist from all over the world. Near upper right, MacArthur Memorial in Norfolk is the resting place of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, and contains many of the general's personal awards and belongings. Near lower right, the Virginia Marine Science Museum in Virginia Beach recently opened two new wings and a 3-D IMAX theatre. Far lower right, the Virginia Zoo is located two miles from campus. Bottom of the page, Norfolk hosted OpSail 2000, a tall ships festival which brought in millions of visitors.

Tall ship cruises, harborside shops, the quaint whistle of the Elizabeth River Ferry, the new Nauticus, one of the nation's premier maritime museums and learning centers, and a climate ranked among the nation's most desirable, all make Norfolk an exciting location for university studies.

Just 20 minutes from downtown Norfolk is the oceanfront resort city of Virginia Beach, with its miles of beaches on the Atlantic Ocean and the Chesapeake Bay.

Hampton is home to NASA's Langley research center as well as Langley Air Force Base, while Newport News is the location of the Newport News Shipbuilding Company, manufacturer of the Nimitz-class aircraft carriers.

Just 45 minutes west of Norfolk is the Jamestown-Williamsburg-Yorktown triangle, where, it can be said, the nation was founded, debated its independence, and then won it on the battlefield.

Also within an easy drive are Richmond, the capital of Virginia and former capital of the Confederacy during the Civil War; the North Carolina Outer Banks, including the Wright Brothers Memorial at Kitty Hawk and the Cape Hatteras National Seashore; and the nation's capital in Washington, D.C.

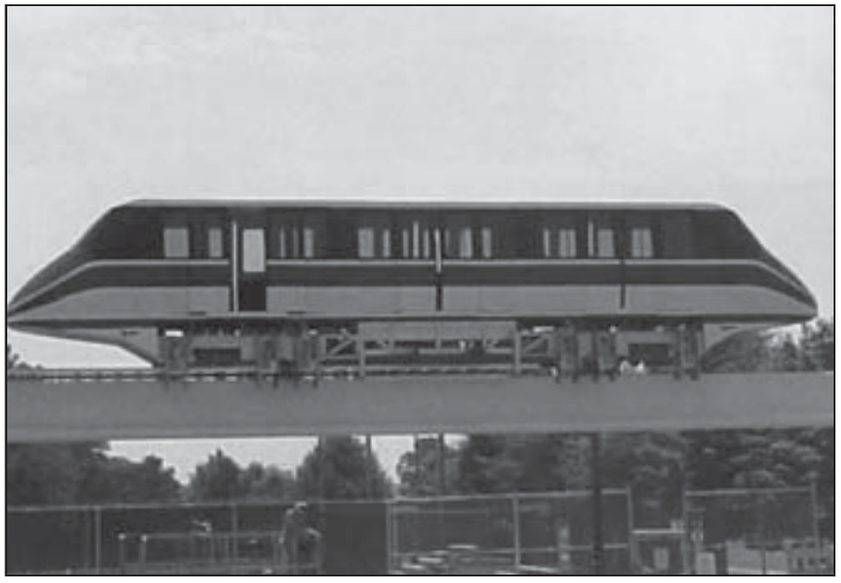

This is Old Dominion

Old Dominion University opened its doors 73 years ago in an abandoned public school building with 206 students as the Norfolk Division of the College of William and Mary, and became an independent institution in 1962. Today, the University enrolls more than 20,000 students, including approximately 6,000 graduate students. Its 188-acre Norfolk campus is the primary hub of activity, along with four additional higher education centers (Virginia Beach Center, Peninsula Center, Tri-Cities Center and Northern Virginia Center).

Old Dominion is a versatile university, committed to its students, their education, personal development and overall success. The University offers 66 bachelor's degrees, 67 master's degrees and 24 doctoral degrees, and consists of six colleges: Arts and Letters, Business and Public Administration, Education, Engineering and Technology, Health Sciences, and Sciences.

Students who live on campus may choose residence hall or apartment-style living. The attractive Webb University Center offers a food court, cyber café, video arcade, lounge areas and other shops to serve the student body.

Old Dominion is one of Virginia's leading Ph.D. research institutions and is a Carnegie Doctoral Research Extensive University, the highest research classification for the nation's higher education institutions. The University contributes approximately $600 million a year to the Hampton Roads economy and provides the community with a variety of programs and services, including the Bank of America Entrepreneurial Center, Technology Applications Center and Military Career Transition Program. Old Dominion is a leader in space-related research and operates one of the largest wind tunnels in the world at NASA's Langley Research Center. The University's Coastal Physical Oceanography, Physical Therapy, Nuclear Physics, and Engineering Management and Systems Engineering programs are considered among the best in the country.

The Maglev transportation system will transport students and vistors from the Powhatan Apartments to the Constant Convocation Center.

Old Dominion's planned renovation of a 75-acre tract of land along the east side of Hampton Boulevard is yet another economic spark for the region. The 8,600-seat Ted Constant Convocation Center, which opened in fall 2002, is the centerpiece of the project. The first set of student residences opened nearby in fall 2003, and will soon be followed by a variety of shops.

In the classroom, Old Dominion students continue to earn high marks. Former student-athlete and 1996 graduate Samantha Salvia became the University's first Rhodes Scholar, and the University has had three recent USA Today Academic All-Americans.

An international leader in delivering interactive instructional television, the University operates TELETECHNET, a distance learning system that offers students an opportunity to earn one of 20 baccalaureate or eight master's degrees without leaving their area of residence. TELETECHNET is the largest televised, interactive distance learning program of its kind in the United States.

University

Above, Rollins Hall houses the admissions, registrar, and financial aid offices. Its Georgian architecture is reminiscent of Old Dominion's parent institution, the College of William and Mary. Below, the boardwalk and gazebo on the Elizabeth River, adjacent to the Sailing Center and behind Whitehurst Hall dorm, is the site of many campus events and sailing regattas.

Old Dominion is also well known for its international focus in both its curricula and student population. More than 1,200 international students from 100 countries are enrolled at the University. Old Dominion also contributes to the cultural life of Hampton Roads by presenting music and dance concerts, art exhibits, and annual literary and film and video festivals. In addition, the President's Lecture Series brings a variety of nationally known speakers to campus each year.

The University is located about 200 miles south of Washington, D.C., and is but a short drive to Virginia Beach, Williamsburg and the Outer Banks of North Carolina.

OLD DOMINION Administration

Dr. Roseann Runte — UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT

Dr. Roseann Runte became the seventh president of Old Dominion University in the summer of 2001. Runte, who has 21 years of experience as a professor and academic administrator, became only the third woman to head a four-year college or university in Virginia.

Runte previously served as president of Victoria University in Toronto, principal of Glendon College (York University), president of l'Université Sainte-Anne in Nova Scotia and assistant dean of arts and science at Dalhousie University.

She is an associate to the Council of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada, a board member of the National Bank of Canada and a member of the executive committee of the Club of Rome.

Runte has served as president of the Canadian Commission for UNESCO for two terms, as president of the Humanities Federation of Canada, as a member of the advisory board of the National Library, as founding president of ACFAS-Toronto, as a board member for the Art Gallery of Nova Scotia and of the board of Associated Medical Services, as chair of the board of the Foundation for International Training, and as vice chair of the board of the Gardiner Museum of Ceramic Art.

The author of five volumes of creative writing, she has edited nine books and has written more than 100 articles and book chapters on topics ranging from literature and education to economic and cultural development.

Runte has a Ph.D. in French from the University of Kansas and has received honorary degrees from Acadia University, Memorial University and the universities of Timisoara and Arad in Romania. She received the prix François Coppée from the Académie française as well as the Palmes Académiques and the Order of Merit from the French government, the Order of Canada, the Queen Elizabeth Jubilee medal, and is a Fellow of the Royal Society of Canada and of the World Academy of Arts and Sciences.

Dr. Jim Jarrett — ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

When Jim Jarrett arrived on the campus of Old Dominion University in the fall of 1967 as a Health and Physical Education professor, he had little idea that his tenure would be counted in decades. During that time span, he has led the program from a well respected NCAA Division II member to a nationally respected Division I power that has captured 25 national championships.

Jarrett began his 33rd year as athletic director in 2003, taking over the reigns in 1970 when Bud Metheny stepped down from that position. As one of the youngest athletic directors in the nation at that time, Jarrett quickly began to make a name for himself and ODU. He committed early on to a philosophy of "selective excellence," whereby the department "selected" its competitive sports and committed itself financially, academically and competitively to the sports it felt the University could best excel.

In 1974, Jarrett became the first athletic director in the state of Virginia to award grant-in-aids to women student-athletes. It was a bold move at the time for a young athletic director and equally young University, but one that paid great dividends. Just five years later, in 1979, the Lady Monarchs won the first of three national championships in women's basketball, and led the nation in attendance.

Under his leadership, the department's athletic venues have tripled and are considered state of the art facilities. They include the construction of the 2,500-seat Bud Metheny Baseball Complex in 1983, the Sailing Center in 1981, the Outdoor Tennis Complex which has been expanded to 15 lighted courts and a championship court with seating for 1,000-plus, the 4,000-seat ODU Soccer Stadium in 1990, renovations to Foreman Field, which included Astro-Turf and new locker room facilities, and the planning and construction of the 8,500 seat Constant Convocation Center.

For all his efforts, Jarrett's has been honored many times by national and local groups. Most recently, Jarrett was named the 2003 Southeast Regional Athletic Director of the Year by NACDA. Other awards he has received include the Collegiate Director's Award from the Women's Basketball Coaches Association, and the Norfolk Sports Club Man of the Year. He served as a member of the NCAA Women's Basketball Committee and is a past president of the Colonial Athletic Association and the Virginia Sports Hall of Fame.

An avid golfer and tennis player, Jarrett and his wife Sugie reside in Norfolk.

ACADEMIC Support

The Old Dominion University Athletic Department offers a wide variety of programs to assist the academic and personal well-being of the student-athlete.

These programs are overseen by Tianna Scott, the academic advisor for student-athletes, and April Brecht, the Life Skills Program director. Their offices are located in Webb Center, within convenient access to all the student-athletes.

Among the programs available to all student-athletes:

SUPERVISED STUDY SESSIONS

Supervised study sessions are required for all freshmen and transfer student-athletes, and organized according to the needs of the individual for upperclassmen. Study sessions meet in a variety of locations across campus, for a minimum of two hours per night, three nights per week.

Shantel Wilson studies in her apartment.

"RISING STARS" - THE LIFE SKILLS PROGRAM

SAM - STUDENT ATHLETE MENTORS

The Student-Athlete Mentor (SAM) is a peer advising program. SAMs are nomimated and elected by their peers. The goal is for each athletic team to have at least one SAM. A SAM on the team can help provide leadership, help teammates with problems, provide support for freshmen, answer questions, and refer teammates to University support services. SAMs are elected on a yearly basis and any upperclassmen may be chosen by their peers to serve as a SAM. All SAMs participate in a training program following elections.

ATHLETIC Facilities

The Old Dominion University basketball programs call the Intercollegiate Athletics Building home.

From its spacious locker rooms, state-of-the-art training facilities, strength training room and beautiful practice gymnasium, the Intercollegiate Athletics Building provides the basketball programs with a first-class facility.

Beginning with the basketball office and locker room complex, players and coaches enjoy the spacious confines of the coaches offices, theatre style team rooms utilized for video viewing, team meetings and study hall, a team lounge that provides a safe haven for visiting with teammates in a relaxed atmosphere or watching television. Adjacent to the team lounge is a spacious player locker room, with large built-in lockers for individual players that provide space for everything from shoes to hairdryers. Shower and bathroom facilities are located next to the locker room.

The training room ranks as one of the top facilities in the nation, providing the best in modern rehabilitation equipment for athletic injuries. The seven-foot deep running pool, located in the hydrotherapy room, along with three whirlpools and one jacuzzi, provides Old Dominion athletes the opportunity to rehabilitate through exercise in the water. The room also includes nine training tables, a Kinkom rehabilitation machine and a traction table.

Adjacent to the training room is the strength training room, built specifically for student-athlete use. The room includes the most up-to-date in nautilus and free weight equipment, all under the full-time supervision of a strength training coach.

The Intercollegiate Athletics Building also houses the administrative staff including the athletic director, associate and assistant athletic directors, the offices of sports information, athletic marketing and promotions, and ticket office, which is conveniently located off the lobby for easy access.

Other building features include an outdoor patio for receptions, a conference room, and men's and women's locker rooms for recreational use, located at the rear of the building with easy access to the recreational fields.

The Intercollegiate Athletics Building is centrally located in the middle of the athletic quadrant of the campus that includes the 4,000-seat Soccer Stadium, the 2,500-seat Bud Metheny Baseball Complex, the Tennis Complex that includes 15 courts, including a 1,500-seat championship facility, the Old Dominion University Field house that is home to the soccer, wrestling, golf and swimming teams, and Foreman Field, a 20,000-seat stadium on campus that is home to field hockey and lacrosse.

Above, The Intercollegiate Athletics Building serves as home for the men's and women's basketball programs at Old Dominion.

Ted Constant CONVOCATION Center

Ted Constant Convocation Center

The Ted Constant Convocation Center, an 8,600 seat facility is the new home for the Old Dominion University basketball programs. Athletic Director Jim Jarrett says, "The ability to provide our student-athletes and fans with a state-of-the art, on campus basketball venue is the best statement the University can make regarding the priority placed on our basketball program. The excitement of a facility with the potential for great atmosphere and quality fan amenities that depicts the great tradition of Old Dominion University athletics is unparalleled in our program's history."

Building Location

Hampton Boulevard, across from the Batten Arts and Letters Building. The Center is the cornerstone for the planned 67-acre University Village that will feature shopping centers, restaurants, a variety of retail shops, research labs and residence halls.

Architects

The team of Mosley/Rossetti is a joint venture of one of the nation's leading sports facility designers and planners and a leading Virginia multidiscipline firm. Rossetti's projects range in scope from the internationally acclaimed Palace of Auburn Hills to the new Van Andel Arena in Grand Rapids, Michigan.

Number of Seats

The center has 8,600 fixed seats, including 836 for club/priority seating. In addition, there are sixteen suites with 12 seats each in the private concourse level and 85 barrier free seats with 85 companion seats in the facility. When seating is added on the floor, capacity will be about 10,000.

Building Size

The center has 215,000 gross square-feet and consists of four parts- the seating bowl, multiple spaces for support functions for patrons, "back of the house" spaces to support center operations and a 10,000 square foot area of multi-purpose rooms that can be used for conferences, meetings, pre-and post activity gatherings, etc.

Flexibility

The bowl has been designed to allow 'downsizing' for a variety of University events ranging in size from 1,500 to 2,000 attendees and up. Retractable seating will allow for events such as concerts, lectures and commencements.

Technology

The Center has state-of-the-art audio and video technlogy that includes a jumbo four-sided video scoreboard, four LED message boards, a video wall in the lobby and 46 closed-circuit television monitors throughout the arena.

Parking Facilities

A 1,400-car garage is located adjacent to the facility to the south, and a shuttle bus system will transport people from a variety of campus locations to Center events.

Old Dominion Fieldhouse 1970-2002

The Old Dominion Fieldhouse served as a palace for the women's basketball team's fortunes.

The Lady Monarchs have been a leader in women's basketball attendance over the past three decades, leading the nation in the late 1970's and early 1980's with packed crowds on a nightly basis. The Hampton Roads community opened its heart to the Lady Monarch basketball program, and the team rewarded their fans by bringing home three national championships ('79, '80, and '85), five Sun Belt Conference titles and ten Colonial Athletic Association championships.

In addition to drawing top crowds, the Fieldhouse has played a major part in the overwhelming success of the Lady Monarch program. Winning streaks, like the 64-game streak that extended from Feb. 4, 1977 to Feb. 16, 1981 (the longest men's or women's streak at that time), helped convince Old Dominion opponents of the wrath of the Fieldhouse.

Another streak followed in 1983 through 1984 at 44 games. More importantly, Old Dominion only had one losing season in the Fieldhouse since the building opened its doors in 1970. The Lady Monarchs own an astounding 676-224 record in the building, including post-season and exhibitions.

THREE-TIME NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

The Old Dominion University name has grown nationally over the years to mean the best in competition... honesty... integrity... and championships, lots of championships.

Thirty national titles. The number is overwhelming, the hardware impressive. And each national title only adds to the Old Dominion legend as "The Home of Champions."

The first national title came in 1975, when the men's basketball team claimed the Division II title in Evansville, Ind. A year later, Old Dominion made the move to NCAA Division I, and the titles continued.

Individually, the titles cut across the sports scene at Old Dominion. Three women's basketball titles (1978-79, 1979-80, 1984-85)...Nine field hockey titles (1982, 1983, 1984, 1988, 1990, 1991, 1992, 1998)...Twelve titles in sailing (Women's Champions - 1982, 1987, 2002; Sloop Champions - 1989, 1990, 1993; Singlehanded Champions - 1989, 1997, 2002; Dinghy Champions - 1989, 1997, 1998; and Team Race Champions - 1990, 1997, 1998)... Three individual wrestling titles... And one individual tennis title.

Additionally, nearly every team that competes in conference championships has won a title.

RETIRED Jerseys

Nancy Lieberman

10

Lieberman's impact on the sport of women's basketball is immeasurable. "Lady Magic," as she was known in the media during her days at Old Dominion, helped her Lady Monarch teams collect an astounding 72-2 record during their back-to-back championship seasons.

She never backed down from a challenge...not even from the 7-2, 280-pound Russian center Uljana Semjonova. In the 1976 Montreal Olympics, the 16-year-old Lieberman courageously took a charge from the towering Semjonova and things were never the same.

That feisty attitude has crowned her as one of basketball's trailblazers and ambassadors. The three-time All-American remains Old Dominion University's leader in career assists (961) while standing second in all-time steals (512). She also holds several single-game and single-season records. Lieberman is the only two-time winner of the Wade Trophy (1978-79 and 1979-80) and is also a recipient of the Broderick Cup (1979-80).

For her efforts and dedication to the game, Lieberman was inducted to the Basketball Hall of Fame in 1996 and the Women's Basketball Hall of Fame in 1999. She and teammate Anne Donovan (who was inducted the year before) are part of a select group of 11 women in the Hall. She is also a member of the Old Dominion Hall of Fame and the Virginia Sports Hall of Fame. She served as the head coach/general manager of the WNBA's Detroit Shock club and is currently and anouncer for ESPN. She and her son T.J. reside in Dallas.

Inge Nissen

Nissen earned Kodak All-American honors during her senior campaign with the Lady Monarchs and was also named to the Street and Smith All-American team. A four-year starter, Nissen ended her career with 2,647 points and 1,459 rebounds. Both numbers are second only to Anne Donovan in the Lady Monarch record books. In addition, Nissen holds several individual season records, including field goals attempted (651), free throws attempted (209), and free throws made (148), as well as single game records for field goals attempted (33) and rebounds (28 vs. Longwood College on March 3, 1978).

A two-time Wade Trophy Finalist, Nissen was named the team's MVP during the 1978, 1979, and 1980 seasons as well as the Outstanding Female Athlete of the Year at ODU in 1980. In 1978, Nissen led Old Dominion to the National Women's Invitational Tournament Championship and ended a fine career by leading the Lady Monarchs to the AIAW National Championships in 1979 and 1980.

After her career at Old Dominion, Nissen spent a season in the Women's Pro Basketball League. When the league disbanded in 1981, Nissen continued to play overseas and won the French National Championship with the Asnieres junior team. A year later, Nissen coached the team to a national title.

Nissen was inducted into the Old Dominion Hall of Fame in 1985 and is currently in her twelvth season as the co-head coach of Florida International women's program.

Anne Donovan

Perfection is the sort of thing that kept Anne Donovan going strong through her basketball career and perfection is what keeps Donovan in one of the top positions throughout Lady Monarch basketball history.

After her gold medal performance in the 1984 Los Angeles Olympics, Donovan was ready to retire but opted not to hang up her high tops when rumors spread that the United States cruised to a gold because the Russians boycotted the LA Games. Desperately wanting to prove the masses wrong, Donovan returned to the 1988 Seoul Olympics and, at the ripe old age of 26, co-captained her team to a repeat gold medal.

That consummate attitude made Donovan a pioneer in her sport and has earned her a spot as one of just 10 women to be honored by the Basketball Hall of Fame. Inducted in 1995, Donovan was rewarded for the hard work and dedication that is scrawled throughout the chronicles of Lady Monarch basketball history.

A multi-honored athlete for the Lady Monarchs, Donovan remains the school's leader in career scoring (2,719 points), career rebounding (1,976 boards), and career blocked shots (801 blocks). In addition, the three-time All-American and 1983 Naismith National Player of the Year owns several single-game and single-season records.

A former assistant at her alma mater, Donovan is a member of the Basketball Hall of Fame, the Women's Basketball Hall of Fame, the Old Dominion Sports Hall of Fame, the Virginia Sports Hall of Fame and the GTE/CoSida Academic All-American Hall of Fame. She is currently the head coach of the WNBA's Seattle Storm and has also coached the Indiana Fever and Charlotte Sting. Her 2001 Sting squad advanced to the WNBA Finals.

Ticha Penicheiro

Ticha Penicheiro can be described with many words, but the lasting impression she has made on Lady Monarch basketball can be fully portrayed by one word – heart-stopping.

Penicheiro's playing style, one of a unique mixture of panache and skill, has earned her many a fan in the Hampton Roads area and around the country. It has also earned her jersey a spot in the rafters.

Numbers don't lie for Penicheiro, who along with Mery Andrade and Clarisse Machanguana, comprised the fan-favorite "Portuguese Connection" that re-cultivated a national pride with the Old Dominion Lady Monarch program. This Figueira da Foz native helped her Lady Monarch squads to an impressive 119-14 overall record, a 61-1 Colonial Athletic Association record, four consecutive CAA crowns, and an appearance in the 1997 NCAA National Championship game.

During her playing time at Old Dominion, Penicheiro collected 1,304 points over 133 games. She finished her career as Old Dominion's all-time steal leader with 591 and second on the all-time assist board, behind only fellow All-American Nancy Lieberman, with 939. She is the CAA's all-time leader on both counts.

A two-time Kodak All-American, Penicheiro collected a plethora of honors during her stay in Norfolk. She became Old Dominion's second winner of the prestigious Lifetime/Wade Trophy and the first international player to win the honor. A four-time All-CAA honoree, Penicheiro was named the conference's Player of the Year in 1995-96 and 1996-97 while also claiming the Rookie of the Year honor in 1994-95.

Penicheiro most recently completed her sixth season with the Sacramento Monarchs of the WNBA. She is a four-time WNBA All-Star and two-time All-WNBA first team selection.

Clarisse Machanguana

33

Machanguana's style and power helped lead a great resurgence in Lady Monarch basketball in the late 90's and left an indelible mark on the Old Dominion dynasty. With Machanguana on the floor, the Lady Monarchs won an incredible 89 percent (90-11) of their games, captured three CAA conference crowns, and advanced to the 1997 NCAA Championship game. It was during her career that "The Streak" began with the Lady Monarch posting 44 straight conference victories during her final two seasons en route amassing a total of 131 consecutive CAA wins.

One of the most prolific scorers in recent memory, the 6-5 forward completed her career with 1,813 career points, which ranks her ninth all-time in Old Dominion history. Every year she stepped onto the hardwood for the Lady Monarchs she led her teams in scoring and field goal percentage, placing her name besides the greats in Old Dominion women's basketball history. Machanguana finished fifth in single season scoring and recorded six games with 30 points or more. Additionally, she shot .624 from the floor and averaged 7.6 rebounds per game in 99 contests during her career.

A Kodak All-American and Naismith Player of the Year finalist in 1997, she helped lead Old Dominion to a 34-2 record and their third Final Four appearance. During her career she also earned All-America honors by the Sporting News, Basketball Times, and Associated Press and was a three-time All-CAA First Time selection and two-time conference tournament MVP.

Since completing her career at Old Dominion, Machanguana has played for San Jose in the ABL, followed by stints with Los Angeles, Charlotte, and Orlando in the WNBA. In 2001, Machanguana helped her Sting squad advance to the WNBA finals under head coach and fellow Old Dominion legend Anne Donovan.

Donna Doyle Scholarship Game

In 1975, a group of loyal and dedicated women's athletic fans proposed the idea of soliciting donors to create a scholarship fund for the women's intercollegiate sports program at Old Dominion University.

There seemed no better title to this effort than to dedicate the scholarship to Donna Doyle Smith, the first female health and physical education graduate at the Norfolk Division of the College of William & Mary, as Old Dominion was then known. A four-sport star in the 1950's, Donna had dedicated her life to the advancement of women's athletics as both a competitor and administrator in the Norfolk City Schools.

Old Dominion's women's basketball program was in its infancy at that point, but dedicated toward gaining national recognition. What Donna and her supporters believed would help set the program in motion would be to attract "name" opponents to the game each year. Virginia Tech played in the first Donna Doyle Scholarship Game in 1975, with Old Dominion earning a 95-82 win. The following year the scholarship committee landed their prize opponent when three-time national champion Immaculata College matched up with the Lady Monarchs.

History now looks at that second Donna Doyle Scholarship game as somewhat of a turning point for the program. While the Lady Monarchs fell to the stronger Mighty Macs, it was Old Dominion's first look at its future coach, Marianne Stanley, the two-time All-American point guard for Immaculata. Stanley put on a show for the Norfolk audience that night, and one year later would return as head coach of the Lady Monarchs, beginning a ten-year legacy at the University that would produce three national championships.

Donna and her committee had no clue in 1975 that their efforts would produce the University's first fully endowed athletic scholarship, a mark the committee reached in 1988.

Through the years, the scholarship fund has enabled numerous female student-athletes the opportunity to study and compete at Old Dominion. The game itself has grown into one of the most prestigious events in the nation and has continually attracted the top names in women's basketball.

In 1981, then top-ranked Louisiana Tech matched up with the 4th-ranked Lady Monarchs for the annual scholarship game. The excitement surrounding the game mounted in the weeks prior to the matchup and resulted in moving the contest to Norfolk Scope. A sellout crowd of 10,237 packed Scope and put Old Dominion in the record books again for the largest regular season attendance at a single women's collegiate game at that point.

Donna Doyle Smith passed away in 1977 from cancer, a disease she had battled for several years prior to her death. Her efforts toward this scholarship and the advancement of women's athletics at her alma mater are permanently remembered through this scholarship fund, which continues to grow. Each year, seven new Donna Doyle Scholarship recipients are selected in each of the women's scholarship sports at Old Dominion. Student-athletes are selected that represent Donna Doyle's athletic achievements, her enthusiasm and spirit.

"What an important day in my life! How happy I am to share it with you. How do I feel about this honor? I feel humble! I feel proud! I feel sad! I feel excited! Most importantly, I feel! I am aware that my life will go on in the lives of other young women who will use their God-given abilities in the athletic arena. I am also aware that, as a result of the strength and confidence these young women will gain through athletics, they will translate this into meaningful activities and relationships as they progress through life. God is in control of my life, and this is one more occurrence which supports my faith in His presence."

SEARCHING FOR HEROES

The Old Dominion Lady Monarchs opened a new chapter in their history books with the inaugural season at the Ted Constant Convocation Center

The Lady Monarchs celebrate their 12th straight CAA title

Although the Lady Monarchs ushered in a new era with the opening of the brand new state-of-the-art Ted Constant Convocation Center, some things still remained the same. Old Dominion captured its 12th straight CAA title since joining the league back in 1991-92 and upped its home court record in conference play to 114-1 with a perfect 12-0 record against CAA opponents on its new home court.

Other Lady Monarch traditions continued at the Ted Constant Convocation Center in 2002-03. The Lady Monarchs again remained one of the top teams in attendance ranking 13th in the nation among fellow Division I schools with 5,288 fans per game entering the turnstiles to cheer on the Old Dominion women. "The Ted" also continued the tradition of hosting the NCAA Tournament, as the NCAA First and Second Rounds were brought to Norfolk in the building's first year.

Old Dominion's tradition of excellence also continued on the court as the Lady Monarchs had their 12th straight 20 win campaign, finishing the year 21-12 playing the second hardest schedule in the country. Nine of the Lady Monarchs' opponents, including eight of Old Dominion's non-conference opponents, in 2002-03 were either ranked or receiving votes in the national polls at the time of tip-off.

Although the Lady Monarchs lost three conference games this past season, Old Dominion was still the team to beat in the conference. Old Dominion ranked among the top in stats among the 10-teams in the CAA including leading the league in scoring offense, field goal percentage, rebounding, and blocks. Nationally, the Lady Monarchs ranked fifth in the country in rebounding margin, grabbing 9.1 more rebounds per game than their opponents.

Senior, guard Okeisha Howard and forward Kim Giddens each closed out impressive four-year careers. Howard, who was named First Team All-CAA for the second time in her career and was the CAA Preaseason Player of the Year, finished her career at Old Dominion ranked 12th on the all-time scoring list (1,565) points. During the season the Lady Monarch point guard led her squad in scoring (14.8 ppg) and assists (4.7 apg), had five 20+ point scoring efforts, and collected her first career double-double with a 22 point and career-high 11 assist effort against Drexel. Giddens, who served as captain of the 2002-03 version of the Lady Monarchs, exhibited excellent leadership jumping into a starting position after serving as one of the top reserves during her first three seasons with Old Dominion. Giddens poured in career and Lady Monarch high 28 points in a near come back win at then #13/15 Penn State and also set a CAA Tournament record grabbing 20 rebounds in a semifinal victory over James Madison.

Junior forwards Monique Coker and sophomore guard Shareese Grant, also had a significant impact for the Lady Monarchs. Coker continued to be a force on the boards grabbing a team-leading 8.7 rebounds per game and was Old Dominion's third leading scorer averaging 10.5 points per game en route to being named Second Team All-CAA. Additionally, she was named to her third CAA All-Tournament team and led the Lady Monarchs with eight double-doubles on the year. Shareese Grant jumped into the starting line-up in just her second year on the team and proved to be one of the top guards in the league. Grant was second only to fellow guard and former high school teammate Okeisha Howard in scoring at a 12.6 clip and was also named the CAA Tournament's Most Valuable Player after averaging 16.7 points during the Lady Monarchs championship run. Grant was also among the toughest defenders on the squad being named to the CAA's All-Defensive Team.

The Lady Monarchs open a new home in the 2002-2003 season. The Ted Cosntant Convocation Center saw the Lady Monarchs earn a 14-4 home record & host the CAA and NCAA tournament.

Okeisha Howard, a 1st team All-CAA selection, finished her career ranked 12th all-time in ODU scoring history.

Coming off a two-year absence and injury to her ACL, redshirt freshman Corrina Turner steadily improved throughout the season and became one of most dominant centers in the CAA. Turner led the Lady Monarchs in shooting percentage (.585) and was second on the squad in rebounding collecting an average of 7.0 boards per outing.

Junior guard Max Nhassengo and sophomore forward Paula Muxiri each made impressive debuts as well. Nhassengo, coming off an ACL injury, dazzled fans and frustrated opponents with her lightening quick speed, while Muxiri was called upon to come off the bench to help the Lady Monarch defense come up with big stops on the other end of the court.

LADY MONARCH Reachout

Continuing the Old Dominion University Athletic Department tradition of reaching into the community, the Lady Monarchs have not only become highly active in the Hampton Roads community through the Monarch ReachOut program, but have been recognized for their efforts.

Recent Lady Monarch activities as part of the Monarch ReachOut program have included work for Habitat for Humanity, the "Buddy Walk" to help raise money and awareness of Down's Syndrome," clinics with Special Olympics athletes, appearances at the Downtown Norfolk Children's Fest, the Susan G. Komen Foundation's Cookout for the Cure, Game for the Cure and reading sessions with children in local elementary schools.

Why Monarchs?

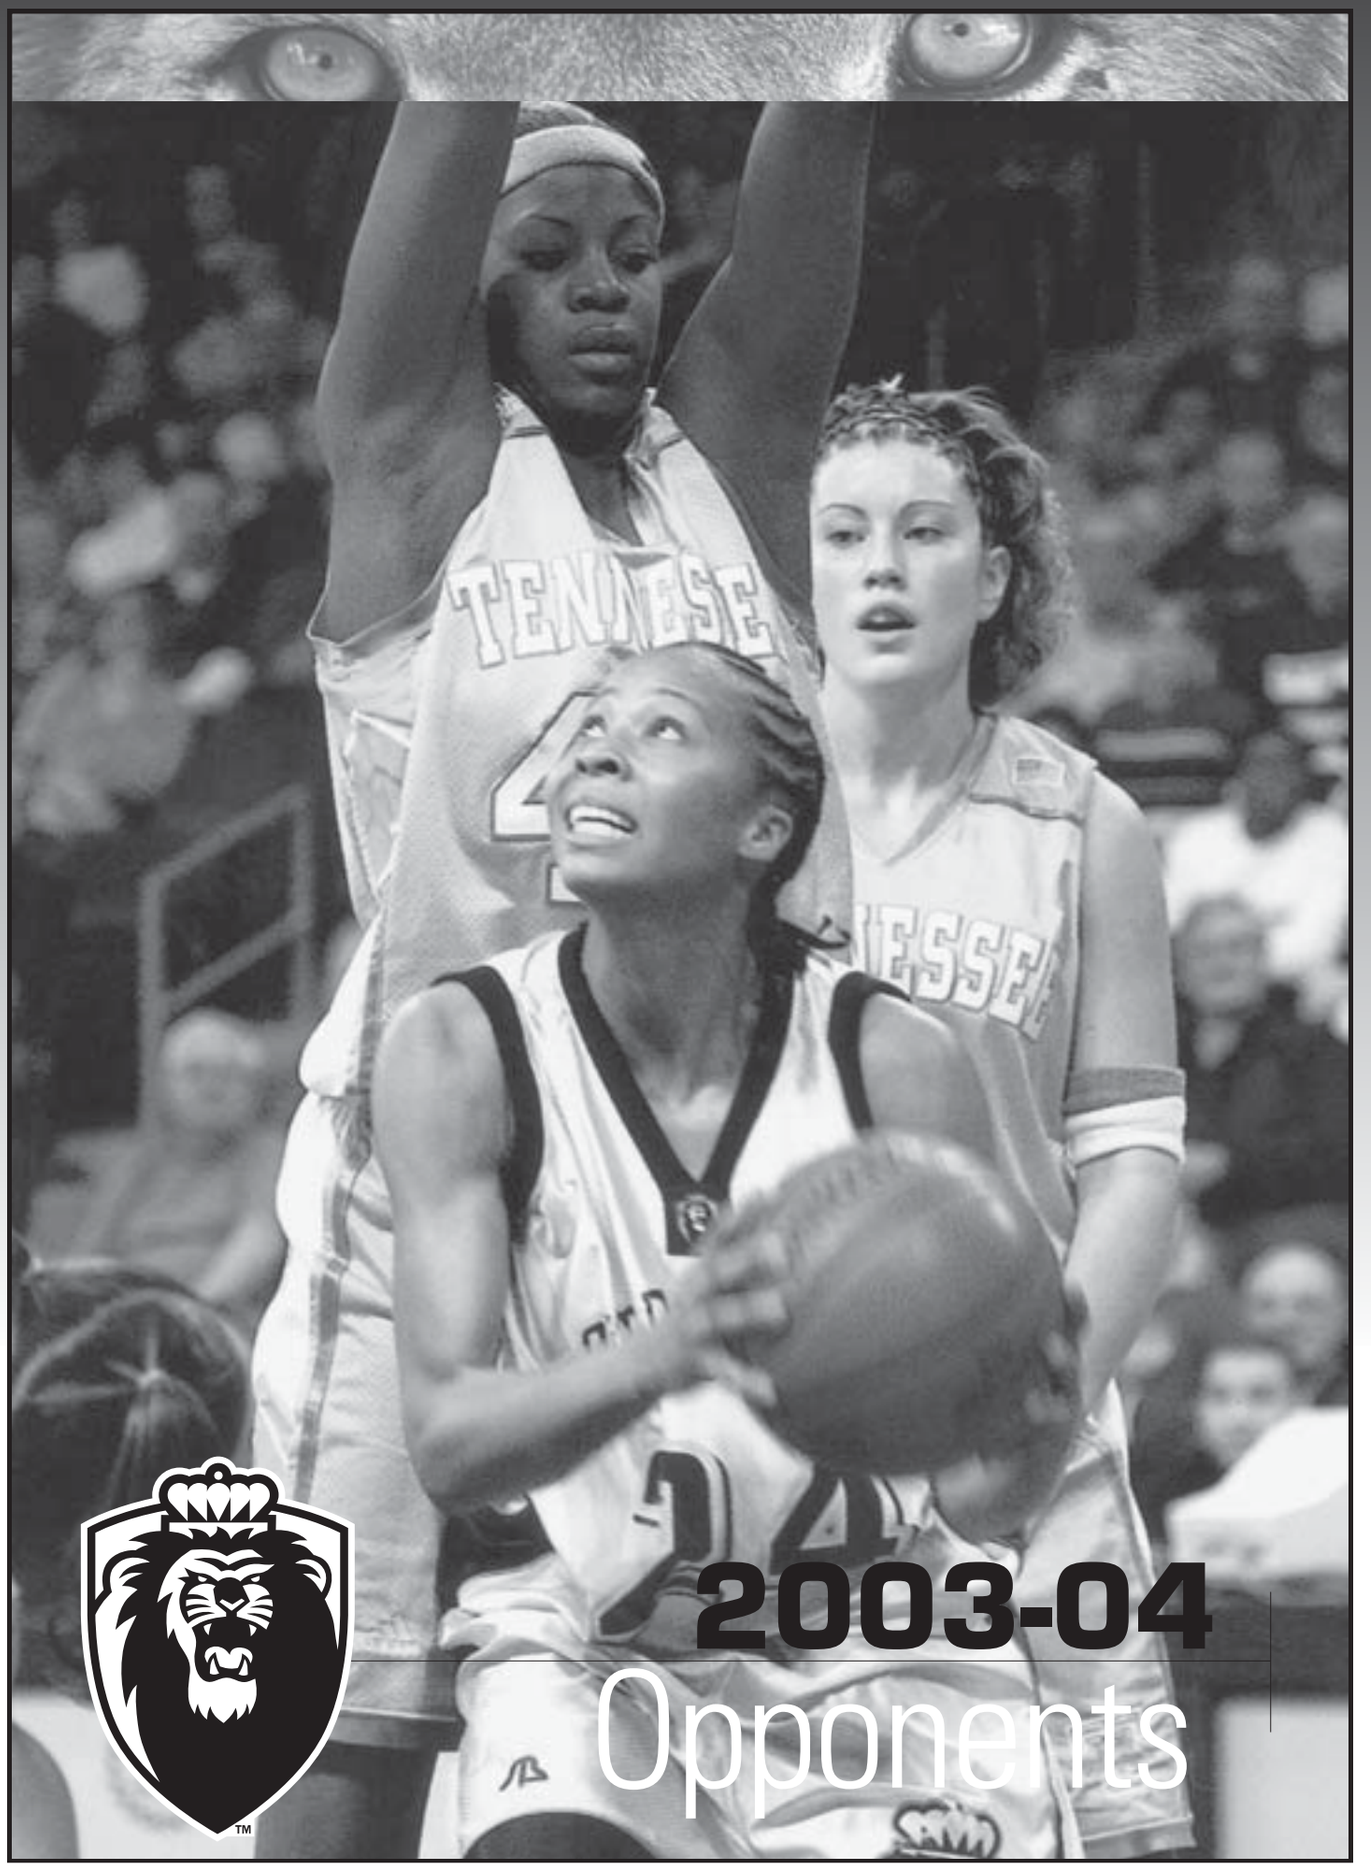

Many people have wondered how the Old Dominion University athletic teams came to be officially known as the Monarchs.

For many years, the athletic teams of the Norfolk Division of the College of William & Mary (as Old Dominion was formerly called) were known as the Braves. This was a derivation of the William & Mary nickname of Indians. As Old Dominion achieved its own four-year status and saw its enrollment surpass that of its Williamsburg neighbor, it was no longer suitable or acceptable to have its teams called the Braves.

The name Monarchs evokes much of the early history of the Commonwealth of Virginia and of Old Dominion's mother institution, the College of William and Mary. The nickname "Old Dominion" was first coined to the Virginia colony by King Charles II after Virginia's loyalty to the crown during the English Civil War. Furthermore, William III and Mary II, whose patronage helped found the College of William and Mary in Virginia in 1693, ruled England at the invitation of Parliament as "joint monarchs."

The Monarch used by Old Dominion has a royal crown on a lion's head, representing an historic past and a strong future. The school's current family of athletic logos (right) were adopted in April of 2002.

Boasting a roster of 10 well-respected academic institutions, the Colonial Athletic Association continues to build on a proud history as one of the nation's top collegiate conferences.

With a geographic footprint that stretches from the shadow of the Statue of Liberty to the beaches of North Carolina, the landscape of the CAA is dotted with major metropolitan areas that include four of the nation's top 25 media markets – New York (1), Philadelphia (4), Washington, D.C. (8) and Baltimore (24).

The CAA showcases the athletic and academic skills of some of the nation's top student-athletes. On the playing field, the conference has produced 15 national team champions in four different sports, 28 individual national champions, 11 national coaches of the year and 10 national players of the year. In 2002-03, the conference sent two or more teams to the NCAA Tournament in seven different sports. The CAA has ranked as the top Division I non-football conference in the Sears Directors Cup standings in recent years.

Even more impressive, however, are the honors accumulated away from competition, which include five Rhodes Scholars, 11 NCAA post-graduate scholars and 12 Honda Award winners. Last year, the CAA had 17 Verizon Academic All-Americans, including six who were selected to the first team. Nearly 1,000 CAA student-athletes posted at least a 3.2 grade point average while lettering in a varsity sport and received the CAA Commissioner's Academic Award in 2002-03.

The CAA conducts championships in 21 sports. Male athletes compete for championships in baseball, basketball, cross country, golf, lacrosse, soccer, swimming & diving, tennis, track & field and wrestling. Female athletes battle for conference titles in basketball, cross country, field hockey, golf, lacrosse, soccer, softball, swimming & diving, tennis, track & field and volleyball.

In men's basketball, the CAA has earned a reputation as a "giant killer" in the NCAA Tournament. Since 1981, CAA schools have posted 12 wins over higher-seeded teams, including UNC Wilmington's upset of Southern California in 2002. Nine of the conference's 10 teams have made at least two NCAA Tournament appearances since 1990. In women's basketball, Old Dominion has captured three national championships (1979, 1980, 1985) and reached the title game again in 1997. In 2002, the Lady Monarchs advanced to the Elite Eight.

The conference has also excelled in many other sports. CAA squads have won 10 field hockey national titles since the championship began in 1981, which is not only more than any other conference but represents nearly half of all titles won. In baseball, the CAA has ranked as one of the nation's top five conferences in four of the past six seasons. The CAA is annually ranked among the nation's top 10 conferences in men's and women's soccer, and has traditionally sent multiple teams to the NCAA Tournament. The conference finished the 2002-03 campaign with teams ranked among the top 25 nationally in cross country, field hockey, men's soccer, wrestling, men's and women's tennis and men's and women's lacrosse. CAA member institutions are also committed to excellence in the classroom. The Colonial Academic Alliance was created in 2002 by the league's presidents with a goal of expanding their partnership to all aspects of university life outside of intercollegiate athletics. Among the programs already established is granting visiting academic status to student-athletes traveling to an away contest so that they have access to libraries, academic resource centers and computer labs.

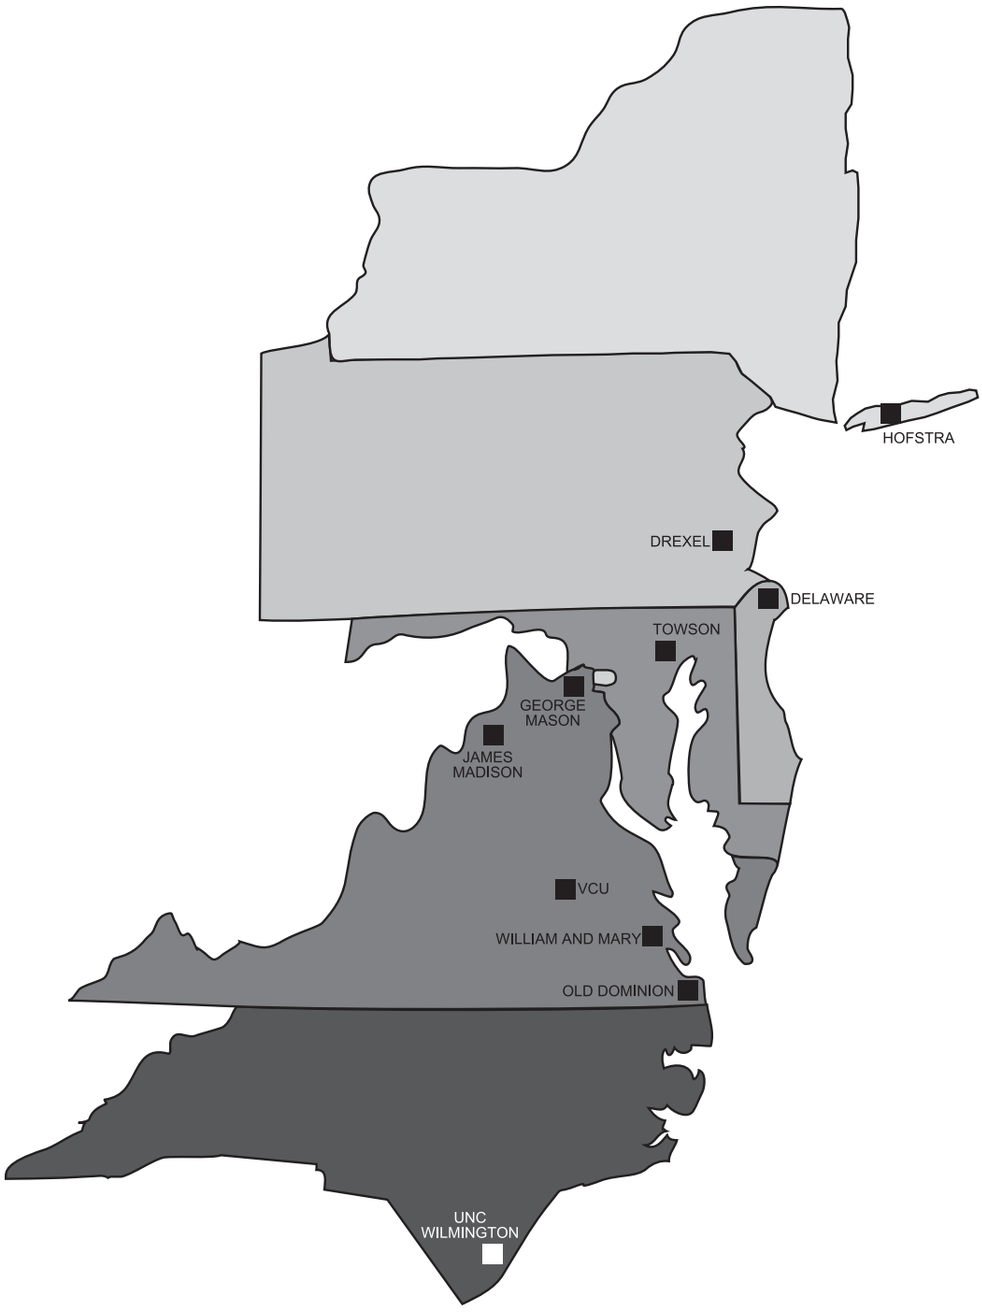

In 2002, two faculty members from CAA institutions were awarded academia's most coveted distinction – the Nobel Prize. John B. Fenn, a research professor in the Department of Chemistry at Virginia Commonwealth University was one of three recipients of the Nobel Prize in chemistry, and Vernon Smith, a professor of economics and law at George Mason University, shared the Nobel Prize in economic sciences.

Under the direction of Commissioner Thomas E. Yeager, who has guided the CAA since its inception, the league recently expanded to 10 members. The University of Delaware, Drexel University, Hofstra University and Towson University were introduced as the conference's newest members on December 13, 2000, joining George Mason University, James Madison University, the University of North Carolina at Wilmington, Old Dominion University, Virginia Commonwealth University and the College of William & Mary.

The CAA traces its roots back to 1983 when three of its current members- George Mason, James Madison, and William and Mary - were aligned with East Carolina University, the United States Naval Academy and the University of Richmond as a basketball league (ECAC South). During the next two years, the league added 11 sports, acquired two new members (UNC Wilmington and American University) and decided to form a new association. The transformation from ECAC South to CAA took place on June 6, 1985. By the fall of 1986, the league gained automatic bids to NCAA Championships in men's basketball, soccer, baseball and women's basketball and formed an officials' bureau. Old Dominion became a member of the CAA in 1991-92 and Virginia Commonwealth University joined the conference prior to the 1995-96 season.

From all-star athletes to Nobel prize winning faculty, the CAA takes great pride in producing performers who stand out both on the playing field and in the classroom.

The 1984-85 Lady Monarchs celebrate with the NCAA Trophy in Austin, Texas.

LIVING LIKE Lady a MONARCH

In August 2003, Old Dominion opened the University Village Apartments. The Lady Monarch basketball squad now lives in these modern, spacious apartments that are located next door to the Constant Convocation Center.
